

In the dark a light is rising,
Powers of dark and dread surprising,
Worlds of fear and pain unbinding,
This we see through Christ the Lord

In the dawn a light is shining;
Shades of grey to gold are turning,
Lives once lost new purpose finding;
This we see in Christ the Lord.

In the light of Christ we're singing,
Like the bread and wine we're bringing
Lives in faith to God who's binding
All to Christ who name Him Lord.
