

O Lord who came from God above
And burned with God in every part
And promised flame and wind and love
To burn me deep and sear my heart,

I ask you, tremblingly, to burn
My wayward, restless, empty days
Till all I am is love and I yearn
To serve and soothe, proclaim and praise.

Jesus, confirm in me a desire
To work, speak, think for you and see
The Spirit's breath, the Spirit's fire
In every way you live in me.

And make me ready to do your will
With willing hands and willing feet,
To burn through life and death until
Your work in Christ in me is complete.
